Im also going to have to write an essay about the cultural arbitrage going on in this phenomenon of the Image subsuming All , how through fashion and self image people claim heritage to past collective movements like noble houses did fabled Heroes , in look alone and none of the substance ; its all artifice ; my boss said to me it used to be three ways : either you played sports , played music , or worked on cars That was it that was all there was ... how this will not last forever and once our Signaling apparatus readjust the lights will come on into the club , or maybe not , this could Just be the New Normal , how once you see it its just Dissonant everywhere , all of the people , so cool looking , and then you talk to them ..

I hv and idea dor work so aspart of my reforming the testjobs stuff i will add to the test harness interface a way to run the jobs from the gui and change configurations on the fly : ad repo n branch , ddp repo n branch , cicdorch branch , etc . Then pass that ifo to jenkins to do with it what it wants also checking to see if a job is running and the job configuration has changed beyond normal stuff that can b configured when building the job screen shows , then another view for the deployment jobs where the numbers are available with metadata so U can see what's what ; also having a dropdown somewhere for vetted test job repos and corresponding ddp repos

One Curious thing about the rise of the dumbphone is the faction of young people who go after these e-inl devices like the Boox Mini or a dumbphone in companion with a Kindle ,, as seen in their Every Day Carry ,, the intentionz are clear -- they will say it themselves: "i cant wait to stop scrolling and read more" , the contentspice must flow ; it is not enough that they unshackle themselves and be bored or reconnect with the material world they just want to Consume in a healthier way , no airquotes reading books is objectively better , trying out the journal feature ...the thought here is that i can supplant tweeting with this, not just to use twitter less but also because my tweets r generally more introspective or meditative , which is not a bad thing its just not really suited for the platform, i dont need everyone to see it i just need to get it out there. this is supported by the fact of me struggling to engage in a conversation resulting from any one of these tweets , usually i find it hard to come up with a good response. this carries over to in person intellectual dialogue too , i just speak to speak and get stuff off my mind that im thinking of.

why not notes?

to multipurpose. journal means journal why not by hand like i used to?

im a faster mobile typist than i am handwriter. also bluetooth allows me to connect my keyboard if im in a verbose mood. cant do that with a notebook

hoping this is fruitful
